Join our monthly meetings and ongoing email listserv discussion

- a. New participants can be invited to join by current members. If you are not already connected to a current member email us to express your interest.
- b. New participants must agree to abide by our Principles of Unity, Decision making and Structure, the organization's core commitments to:
 - i. Nonviolent discipline in all strategies, tactics, and action; respect for all individuals, regardless of any differences.
 - ii. Support and initiate nonviolent actions to stop the use of nuclear power domestically and internationally; abolish nuclear weapons.
 - iii. Support and initiate actions for conservation and energy technologies that are renewable, regenerative and non-polluting, with a preference for small decentralized democratically owned sources.
 - iv. Consensus seeking decision-making.

A current member will contact a new participant to answer questions and affirm the new participant's commitment to abide by Clamshell's Principles.

Discontinuation of Clamshell participation

- a. If someone is disrespectful, disruptive, or expects the Clamshell to undertake actions counter to the Clamshell Principles, then:
 1. The group will attempt resolution by brief discussion with them during the gathering, using constructive feedback and active listening,
 2. If needed, a small number of members will be assigned to talk further with those involved shortly after the gathering.
- b. If a positive resolution is not reached by these methods, they must then discontinue their involvement in Clamshell Alliance meetings, gatherings, communications, and actions and they must not represent their views or actions as belonging to the Clamshell Alliance.
